

BIG STRIKE IS AVERTED

Adamson Bill Passed Both Houses and Was Signed by the President Sunday.

Through the efforts of President Woodrow Wilson the mammoth railroad strike that had been called for Monday morning and which would have caused untold loss and suffering was called off by the unions interested Saturday night.

The Adamson eight-hour day bill, enacted from Congress last week by the railroad brotherhoods as the price of calling off the nation-wide strike ordered for Monday, was signed by President Wilson Sunday in his private car at the Union Station where he stopped on his way from Shadow Lawn, N. J. to Hodgenville, Ky. That there may be no question as to the legality of the measure as a result of it having been signed on Sunday but the President will affix his signature again upon his return to Washington today.

How long peace shall reign as a result of the bill apparently is dependent upon developments in the proposed move to test the constitutionality of the act. Should the railroads take no action, but wait the beginning of the investigation of the working of the eight-hour day by the special commission for which the measure provides, the brotherhoods will remain inactive. The employees' leaders declare however, that should the law be held unconstitutional and the railroads attempt to restore the ten-hour day on their lines, a strike will follow promptly.

Brotherhood heads in a circular letter to their members made no comment on the measure passed. They merely pointed out that it would not become effective until next January 1, and that many things might occur between now and then which would change materially any suggestions or comment they might make.

BARBECUE WILL ATTRACT CROWD

Winchester is Prepared to Entertain Twenty Thousand People Next Saturday.

The details for the big Democratic barbecue to be held in Winchester next Saturday have all been completed and everything is in readiness for the monstrous entertainment. Reports from many counties say that enormous crowds will be sent to the barbecue. Campaign Chairman John A. Judy, of this county, has requested us to urge all people that own automobiles to take over as many as possible. Mr. Judy has a supply of ribbon badges on which the name of the county has been printed with the Democratic emblem also printed on same and requests all those who are going to call at his office and get a badge as soon as possible. Let Old Montgomery send over a large delegation and show the good people of Clark we appreciate not only their hospitality but their genuine Democratic enthusiasm in undertaking such a big enterprise.

Vice President Marshall and Congressman Heflin will be the chief speakers. Go and show them that you stand back of our matchless President in his labors for the people.

Mr. Curry formerly made his home in this city and when here was in the insurance business. He is well known all over Central Kentucky and the young people have the best wishes of many friends.

PRESIDENT WOODROW WILSON

The special train of the President passed through this city Monday night at 9:15. Though not scheduled to stop here, quite a number of people were at the depot, hoping to get a glimpse of him and were greatly pleased when the engineer misread the block signals and brought the train to a stop. The President, in response to the cheering from the crowd, which could be heard for several squares, came out upon the platform and said that while his mission in our great State was patriotic and not political, he appreciated the fact that so many had seen fit to come down to the depot, though his train was not scheduled to stop. He thanked them for their presence and after speaking a few more words of good cheer, the train, bearing him back to Washington, departed.

PRESIDENT AT HODGENVILLE

It is Estimated That Thirty-Five Thousand People Were Present at Services.

President Wilson's special train passed through this city early Monday morning. President Wilson was on his way to Hodgenville to be present at the Lincoln Memorial Celebration. When Mr. Collier presented the deed to the Lincoln farm to Secretary Baker, it was arranged that as Mr. Collier presented it a signal was given and a large American flag measuring 16X40 feet was unfurled from the flag pole that stands at the foot of the steps that lead to the memorial and a band played "The Star Spangled Banner." The crowd was a most enthusiastic one and tendered Mr. Wilson a most wonderful reception.

CITY SCHOOLS OPEN

The City Schools opened for the fall term on Monday, September 4, and although it was "Labor Day," had a full attendance. At the opening exercises, Rev. Clyde Darsie conducted the devotional, while addresses were made by Hon. Chas. D. Grubbs, President of the Board; Miss Frost, Community Nurse, and Superintendent Hopper.

The students will again publish the "High School News," following the general plan inaugurated last year with the exception that an effort will be made to enlarge the paper. Great enthusiasm is being manifested by the members of the two literary societies of the High School, each endeavoring to secure new members from the incoming classes. Meetings will be held every two weeks, as before, and the public is cordially invited to attend any and all gatherings of this character.

In the course of his remarks Superintendent Hopper insisted that the students not only invite, but urge their parents to visit the classes while at work and get first-hand knowledge of what is being done in the schools. He said that many pupils go through the entire course and never have the pleasure of seeing their parents show sufficient interest in their work to warrant a visit to a class. He stated, further, that every parent should visit the school where his child is being taught, at least once each term, if not oftener.

Miss Helen M. Brown, of Vassar College, has been chosen as head of the Department of Mathematics and Science in the High School.

SATURDAY IS "DOLLAR DAY"

This Big Money Saving Monthly Event Promises to Eclipse the Former One.

Mt. Sterling's big bargain day will be Saturday, Sept. 9th, when the 2nd "Dollar Day" sale will be put on by the merchants of this city. These sales are held the second Saturday in every month and the buying public got such a run for its money last "Dollar Day" that no one can afford not to be in Mt. Sterling for the big event Saturday. The first sale of this kind was held in August and was a huge success—however, this one gives promise of being even a greater success than the first one as the merchants are determined that every customer shall get a run for his dollar. Read the "Dollar Day" advertisements in this issue—they will save you dollars.

SPLENDID OPENING

The consolidated school at Camargo opened Monday morning with nearly one hundred children in attendance. Prof. Cain who will be in charge of the school had not arranged for but one assistant, however, the board will immediately employ another teacher. Arrangements have been completed for a Community League to be formed and the first meeting will be held the first Saturday in October. Speakers from the State Institutions will be present to address the people. The interesting exercises were attended by a large crowd and much interest is being taken in the new enterprise.

The get-away horse has to "stand pat" when wearing the Conroy Harness. Prices no higher—Think of that. (10-2t)

A GOOD SHOW

The H. B. Nye Stock Company opened a week's engagement in its tent, corner Bank and Locust streets, Monday night, with a good attendance, presenting "The Minister's Sweetheart." The company carries 26 people, the actors and actresses being first-class. The price of admission has been reduced to 10 and 20 cts., and it is well worth the price.

Drink to Health---Kentucky Carlsbad Water

There is more to the caption of this little article than, at a glance, would appear.

If one would stop and consider what the drinking of PURE WATER means and then add to this the wonderful medicinal properties contained in Kentucky Carlsbad Water, one would get the full meaning of "Drink to Your Health."

This "WONDER WATER" comes from the earth at a depth of over 1,100 feet, is thoroughly filtered, which removes any possible foreign matter, but does not remove any of its health giving properties, and is put up in half-gallon bottles (six to a case), that have been thoroughly washed and cleansed and then sterilized with live steam.

To each case, as above described, is added one smaller bottle of the Natural Mineral Water that has been fortified for use in cases of constipation or when the bowels need flushing.

Unless you are familiar with Kentucky Carlsbad Water you are, no doubt, wondering what the wonderful curative properties contained in this water are and what we claim for them.

If you will send for our free booklet, which gives the analysis of Kentucky Carlsbad Water, and submit same to your physician, he will tell you that by using the water in liberal quantities it will correct Uric Acid (the cause of most Rheumatism), Albumen (the symptoms of Diabetes), and will give quick relief in cases of Stomach Trouble.

We have here at Dry Ridge a thoroughly modern Sanatorium and Hotel, where patients receive prompt and permanent relief from all the above troubles.

Our rates are low and we would like to correspond with you in reference to your particular trouble. Write for booklet.

THE FOLLY OF INDULGENCE

In nine cases out of ten, man's life will not be a success if he does not bear burdens in his childhood. If the fondness or vanity of father or mother has kept him from hard work; if another always helped him out at the end of his row; if instead of taking his turn at pitching off he stowed away all the time—in short, if what was light always fell to him, and what was heavy about the same work to some one else if he has been permitted to shirk, until shirking has become a habit, unless a miracle has been wrought his life will be a failure and the blame will not be so much his as that of his weak and foolish parents.

USEFUL LIFE ENDS

Rev. Edward C. Trimble died last week at his home in Louisville. He had been in declining health for several months. Mr. Trimble was born in Mt. Sterling, April 7, 1831. He spent over fifty years in the work of the ministry. He had pastorates in Nashville and Jackson, Tenn.; also in Louisville and in Washington and Seymour, Ind. His work in the last two fields continued about fifteen years. In his later life he labored as supply and missionary pastor in Indianapolis, Ind., and in Mansfield, Ill. During his ministry, and in fields where he was pastor, three valuable church buildings were erected and dedicated. In all these places of worship there are useful and growing congregations of Christian people. Rev. Trimble has many relatives in this section and was a nephew of Mr. J. G. Trimble, of this city.

THE RURAL CREDITS LAW

When the remarkable record of legislative achievement of the Wilson administration is reviewed the rural credits law will rank first in the minds of many and among the greatest in the opinion of all. It is of more value to the farming population of the country, the basic element of the nation, than all the legislation in their behalf passed by the Republicans in the last half century.

The farmer can give the best security in the world. It cannot be lost, hidden or destroyed, or permanently injured. Bad management may cause manufacturing, mercantile, railroad or other stock to drop from $200 a share to far below par. There are no such fluctuations in land values; they are stable and enduring. Farm loans suffer under one disadvantage—they are not liquid, not immediately or readily convertible into cash.

The trouble has always been that our laws and our banking rules and regulations have been adapted only to the needs of the capitalists, merchants and business generally which only require short time loans, but have not been adapted to the borrowing needs of the farmers. But the evil is now cured and the lack provided for by the rural credits law.

REPUBLICANS HAD PANIC

During the Roosevelt administration when the country was in the grasp of Wall Street, one of the worst monetary panics ever experienced engulfed the nation in almost hopeless ruin. Fortunes were swept away, men were thrown out of employment, bread lines were established, credit was denied and a season of hard times was realized that those who suffered from it will never forget. There was no good reason for the panic other than some four or five men who had the power to tie up the money of the country for their own aggrandizement. Though there have been occasions during the Wilson administration when panics might have been thrown had the same men been in control of the finances, none has occurred because the federal reserve act has stripped them of the dangerous power and placed the fiscal affairs directly in control of the government. This achievement alone ought to insure and doubtless will, the re-election of President Wilson, even if there were no scores of other lasting benefits from the constructive legislation enacted by a patriotic Congress. The fact that Wall Street is backing Candidate Hughes will make the rest of us more earnest for the re-election of Woodrow Wilson.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

WHAT SHALL WE DO WITH THE LOAFERS?

Dr. Gambrell has spoken of war as the surgery of nations. General Sherman had another name for it, and both may be right. We have seen some pus cases that made us afraid that war might become necessary to give relief. We wonder if, taken the country over, the average village would not upon examination show one-half of its men doing nothing half the time. And what would be said of the women and children? It is marvelous, not to say shameful, what idleness is exhibited as one walks down any "business" street of the towns. The hangers-on, set-fasts, immovable hoboes, tramps that don't even tramp, men having only half employment and working a fraction of the day, gas bags without illumination, gossip swallows, weary sons of ennui, tired do-nothings—there are about all the places of "business." We should like to pick out those who are to become "food for powder" from among this aggregation. Only don't ask us to become captain of this Fals-inflan company of warts and mollies.—Baptist Record, Jackson, Miss.

We hope our good friend of the Baptist Record was not discussing conditions existing in his own town. We have found such conditions in some parts of the country, where hanging around country stores and country depots many idle, lazy, loafing people, white and black, are found, and these sights sometimes bring to memory a story told the writer some years ago in a North Georgia town:

A railroad contractor was asked as to the supply of labor. "There is plenty of negro labor about here," said he, "but the negroes are idle, inclined to loaf and unwilling to do much regular work. A few days ago," said he, "when on the road, I had a hurry call for 10 men. I sent an old, antebellum darkey, Uncle Joe, back to town to bring them. In an hour or two he returned, looking rather crestfallen, but without a single hand. I asked what had become of the hands I sent for."

"'Deed, Marse William,' said he, 'I couldn't get any. The idle, loafing, lazy niggers won't work. Marse William,' he added, 'God Almighty has lost money on every nigger He has raised since the war.'"

The old darkey had the old-time idea existing in slavery days, but we often wonder if the Almighty has not lost, not on the negroes alone, but on tens of thousands of whites, so forcibly described by the Baptist Record as "gas bags without illumination," "gossip-swallowers," "weary sons of ennui," "tired do-nothings," "hangers-on," "set-fasts," "immovable hoboes," "tramps that don't even tramp."

What is to be the outcome where a nation has so many men, both white and black, of whom these things can be truthfully written?

It has been generally assumed that the stock of the railroads of the country is owned by a comparatively few wealthy people, when as a matter of fact it is just the reverse. Reports filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, as required by law, show that the majority of stockholders are people of comparatively small means, and that this stock is held in comparatively every walk of life. The Illinois Central, one of the smaller roads, has 11,000 stockholders; 42,000 people own the stock of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe; the Pennsylvania is owned by 92,000 people, and other roads are in proportion. The interests of these people, and of the great consuming public, should also be considered in any settlement that is finally effected in the dispute between the roads and their employees.

The next U-boat that will arrive from Germany is the Bremen, carrying a cargo of drugs.—Little Rock Gazette. That is the latest dope.

LIFE'S JOURNEY

For every life there is a summit.

Happy are they who gain it and sad the lot of those who faint and fall in the struggle. Short or long to the top it can only be scaled by persistent climbing. There must be ambition to do and dare, or the prize will not be secured.

Have you in the vigor of youth begun the journey? Already are you tired and weary? Are you resting by the way in slothful indulgence, hoping for wings or sails to bear you aloft without effort? Long before manhood's prime you will miss the top and go down hill. Arouse for another effort. At the base is a thorn, at the summit the crown. There is no escape from the one or the other in the life-journey. Which will you have, wealth or poverty, comfort or squalor? Decide in the dew of the morning.

At high noon stand out a man on the peak of endeavor wearing your own crown.

In due time death comes unbidden to us all. But some, we note, are never satisfied unless spectacularly clinging to the coat tails of the grim reaper.

This town has its advantages and its disadvantages. Let's boost the one and forget the other when strangers are in our midst.

The slave to fashion never dictates the fashions.

THE DUTY OF A PATRIOT

Thomas A. Edison, the world's greatest inventor and a life-long Republican, defines the duty of an American patriot, in the coming national election, in the following admirable card:

"Not since 1860 has any campaign made such a direct call on Simon-pure Americanism. The times are too serious to talk or think in terms of Republicanism or Democracy. Real Americans must drop parties and get down to big fundamental principles.

"More than any other President in my memory Wilson has been faced by a succession of tremendous problems, any one of which decided the wrong way would have had disastrous consequences. Wilson's decisions so far have not got us into any serious trouble, nor are they likely to.

"He has given us peace with honor. This talk about the United States being despised is nonsense. Neutrality is a mighty trying policy, but back of it are international law, the rights of humanity and the future of civilization.

"With reference to Mexico, I think that the President has acted wisely, justly and courageously. It was right that the United States should not have recognized such a murderous personality as Huerta. I do not believe that we should have intervened nor do I believe that we should intervene now. Mexico is a troublesome neighbor just now, but war and conquest is not going to make her a better one. Both against England and against human slavery the United States worked out its salvation through revolution, and it was a pretty slow, trying process.

"It has been said that Wilson at first was against preparedness. Perhaps he was, but when convinced that intelligent public opinion was overwhelmingly in favor of it, he changed. That is the proper thing for our Presidents to do. A President defiant of public opinion would be a dangerous man in our system of government.

"His attitude on the tariff shows an equal openness of mind. A tariff commission will take the whole problem out of politics. It is my hope that experts will be named and that the body will be continuing and vested almost with the dignity of the Supreme Court.

"They say he has blundered. Perhaps he has. But I notice that he usually blunders forward. You can't get 100 per cent. efficiency in a Democracy. I don't know that we ought to want it. We would be machines and we would have to sacrifice too much of freedom.

"As I said at the start, it has been just one big thing after another with Wilson. I have never known so many dangerous questions brought up for decision to any one President. Now he has the general strike of the skilled railway men, which is carried out will throw the whole country into confusion and prove a calamity that, in certain eventualities, will have results bound to extend over a long period of time. He is acting with his usual courage and sanity.

"In my opinion Mr. Hughes, if President, would find it difficult to decide on the best course for the Government to take in this strike. His capacity for hindsight, as we learn from his speeches, is highly developed, but as to his foresight we are not equally well informed.

"Mr. Wilson has now had about four years of experience and has earned faith and trust. I do not think it a logical or sensible thing to change to an inexperienced and untried man just for the sake of change, or without much better reasons being given for the change than I have noticed.

"Roosevelt was my choice. He has had experience and is one of the best of Americans, but the machine-controlled Republican party would not have him. Therefore I am for Woodrow Wilson."

Every fair-minded man must admit that Woodrow Wilson has had more to contend with than any other President and that his solution of all such problems could not have been improved upon.

It is easy for Candidate Hughes to say President Wilson was in error on various occasions, but he never yet has said what he would have done, if President.

MR. BRYAN'S WISDOM

Ten years ago in a speech at Madison Square Garden, Mr. Wm. J. Bryan, in discussing the relation of railroad capital and labor, said:

"The struggle to secure an eight-hour day is an international struggle, and it is sure to be settled in favor of the workingman's contention."

"Society, therefore, is justified in demanding that the differences between capital and labor shall be settled by peaceful means. If a permanent, impartial board is created, to which either party of an industrial dispute may appeal, public opinion may be relied upon to enforce the finding."

STRANGER THAN FICTION

Just why is it that some people always oppose the industrial development of this town and community?

What have they to gain personally through such a course?

True, they would pay a few cents additional in taxes, while their property would increase as many dollars in valuation.

One live citizen who has given the subject considerable thought suggests that people who oppose local commercial advancement have a selfish motive at heart. He thinks they fear a loss of personal prestige through the bringing into our midst of new blood and new industrial enterprises. He believes the reactionists can see a possible waning of their power through the introduction of new and up-to-date methods, and that rather than retire to the rear they seek to muzzle the growth of the community.

This may or may not be true, but the fact remains that some hidden influence is constantly seeking to retard the commercial and industrial expansion of this town and this community, and it is the duty of every wide awake citizen to seek a solution to the mystery and put an end to it.

This town should advance with the rest of the state and nation, and to do so we must have the loyal co-operation of all citizens.

THE WORLD-WIDE SHORT-AGE IN PAPER

The scarcity of paper, which is so seriously affecting the newspapers of the United States, is not confined to this country, nor even to Europe. Reports to the United States Government show that there is a very serious scarcity in Brazil, and there are signs there that a paper crisis is approaching. It is suggested in that country that the newspapers should print smaller editions in order to economize on paper. Reports from Spain indicate that the manufacturers of paper have advised the Government that, in view of the short supply of paper, they are willing to discontinue the export trade, and have asked that the Government fix a price on paper. A commission has been appointed consisting of representatives of the Government, the paper manufacturers, newspaper publishers and book publishers to pass on all complaints formulated, and to investigate the entire subject. In Spain wood pulp is reported as having increased 85 per cent. since the war began. More than half of the supply of wood pulp in that country has been coming from Sweden, while Germany and Norway furnished a considerable portion.

These conditions in Europe and in South America are indicative of the world-wide paper situation. Readers of newspapers, magazines and advertisers should recognize this situation. When the price of pig-iron advances, the makers of machinery increase their prices. When the price of cotton advances, cotton manufacturers are necessarily compelled to increase the price of the finished goods, and so runs the rule all through the business world, except in the publishing end, and here it would seem that publishers out of the desire to run into bankruptcy are expected, regardless of the price of the raw materials, not to advance the price of their papers nor their advertising rates. In any other line of business the man who follows this policy would go into well-deserved bankruptcy, and the business world would say that he justly deserved his fate for his lack of business sense. Possibly the newspapers of the country will soon recognize the situation and meet it in exactly the same way that other producing interests have to meet the advanced cost of labor and materials, and if business men of good, sound, common sense will study the situation, they will recognize the necessity of meeting this problem as other manufacturers meet advancing costs of raw materials.

The importance of the publishing industry is shown in the fact that the value of the products of the newspaper and periodical, book and job printing industry of the country for 1914, according to the Census reports, amounted to $810,508,111, a gain of 22.3 per cent. over the output for 1909.

The amount of money expended for advertising through these publications was $255,954,082. As large as these advertising figures are, they are smaller than they should be. The country is only beginning to appreciate the creative value of advertising. Manufacturers, merchants, railroads, towns and cities are all beginning to wake up to the fact that the mightiest power available for the development of business is advertising. The more thoroughly this is appreciated, the larger will be the prosperity of the country.

PRIDE IN LABOR

Let us teach our children to earn what they get—to give useful service in such measure as in their tender years they may give, without hardship. By which is not meant odious child labor—binding children down to steady work—but the little errands—the little helpful things, aside from the usual duties of home life—the useful, although not irksome, deeds that boys and girls may do, without detriment to their health and without crowding the time that rightfully belongs to them for play. For these things let them be reasonably compensated, so that they early may learn the value of earning their own way—of being self-supporting, when they advance in years.

It requires tact and good judgment to separate little kindnesses and little thoughtfulness on the part of children, those acts for which they should not be paid but which they should be taught to do as a second nature habit, from the unusual service for which parents or outsiders properly may remunerate the little ones. The cardinal purpose should be to let children grow naturally and logically into the habit of being self-reliant, of having a worthy pride in sustaining themselves, as they come to maturity. If all children had instilled into them habits of industry and were imbued with pride that would disdain to accept charity so long as it can be avoided—the pride that impels men and women to do the best they can even though adversity may impose disagreeable conditions upon them—but who insist upon earning their own way—if there were more of this pride there would be fewer chronic idlers.

But sufficient unto the keen desire for work should be the opportunity to get work. It is undeniable that many a deserving man, industrious by nature, too proud to accept charity so long as he can avoid it, is compelled to be the recipient of aid because he cannot secure work assuring a livelihood. Every man should want to work. And there should be work for every man who wants it.

Every town has its human side, but it takes a human to find it.

A CENTURY OF BIBLES

Beginning on the 6th of last May, the American Bible Society will celebrate its hundredth anniversary. This society was founded May 6, 1816, for the purpose of circulating the Bible, without note or comment, in all lands.

The success with which this enterprise has met is shown by the fact that during the century of its existence more than 117,000,000 copies of the Scriptures have been distributed in one hundred and sixty-five languages. The society has always sold Bibles at cost of printing and given them to those who are too poor to buy.

There is perhaps no single institution in the country that has had a greater influence in the spread of religion during the past century than the American Bible Society, and the good that it has accomplished is beyond estimation.

The President has finally appointed the American members of the commission that is expected to adjust our differences with Mexico. The commission doubt, will map out an elaborate plan which both governments will expect to approve, and to which the American government will here. But since the Mexican government is totally without stability and notoriously treacherous and unreliable, it is difficult to see and any hope of final peace along the border when once the troops turn to their homes. CLIPPINGS FROM THE

SNAGTOWN TORCHLIGHT

A muddling of meat was stolen from the smokehouse of Dr. Hukills some time last Saturday. George Rye, the Deputy Constable, was soon located and went on the trail, which remained warm longer than ordinarily on account of the weather. Soon the officer came across a stranger from the Blue Panther neighborhood that had a muddling of meat on his shoulder that answered the description of the missing one. Taking from his pocket a piece of slate recently taken from the Black Bear school house, for use in his detective work, the Deputy asked the suspect to place his finger print on the slate. This the stranger did, little suspecting the trap that was being laid for him, and then taking the finger print to the smokehouse the officer found that it answered the description of the one on the doorknob, both being greasy. The man then broke down and told it all. His case was continued, and he will not be severely dealt with, he being one of the leading voters of the Blue

Panther section.

Bob Murray, formerly of Hot Water Springs, secluded himself in a cellar last week and invented a new-fangled trap for the apprehension of fleas. He thinks he sees a fortune stored up for him if the flea crop next summer is as large as he expects. The trap is smaller than a rat trap and is worn on the person, but doesn't have to have any bait. To demonstrate his ingenuity he will set two of them on the Postmaster early in the spring. The Postmaster always has more fleas than anybody else, because he is more conspicuous in public life than anyone else.

H. C. Denton hung a horse shoe up over his front door for good luck the other morning and that evening was kicked into a gully by his shot gun. He says all who have horse shoes hung up had better be careful and not load their guns too heavy.

George Bean, who has been making a search for the bushel of snakes he turned loose last spring, has succeeded in finding most of them, and will leave next week for Coon Holler. George, takes the snakes with him wherever he goes, and thereby attracts interest that would otherwise be bestowed on somebody else.

A mass meeting of our citizens will be held in a day or two to take steps to rescue old John Ruddy from the old cistern that he fell in a night or two ago while going home from the moonshine still on Possum Ridge. This is a matter that should be attended to as soon as is convenient, because the water is rising.

IF I KNEW

If I knew the box where smiles are kept,
No matter how large the key,
Or strong the bolt, I would try so hard,
'Twould open, I know, for me.

Then over the land and sea broadest,
I'd scatter the smiles to play,
That the children's faces might hold them fast,
For nunny and nunny a day.

If I knew the box that was large enough
To hold all the frowns I meet,
I would try to gather them, everyone
From nursery, school and street.

Then folding and holding, I'd pack them in,
And turn the monster key;
I'd hire a giant to drop the box
To the depths of the deep, deep sea. —Keystone.

Twenty-five guards and officials at the Frankfort penitentiary have been dismissed without cause. THE DREAMER

God Almighty made the dreamer, and without the dreamer the world would be a barren wilderness today, and the cave man and the beasts of the stone age would continue to inhabit it. A man without imagination is to be pitied. A man without the milk of human kindness is to be pitied. A man who has only rocks instead of encouraging words for his fellows is to be pitied. Yes, "the dreamers must have their day." In all ages to come the dreamer will have his day. But dreams come true. The dreamer lives forever; the unimaginative toiler dies in a day. That is, when adversity overtakes him his head and his heart are dead: pride and hope have perished, but his hands continue to toil on, and his feet to walk their weary way. If there were no dreamers there would be no progress. If there were no dreamers the world would be a sodden mass of mediocrity. If there were no dreamers might would be right. If there were no dreamers Mammon would be King. If there were no dreamers the Golden Fleece of Commerce would be the God of Immortality. If there were no dreamers the world would be stagnant and stolid, and mankind would be brutish and intolerant. All the men of history worth while were dreamers. All the warriors, from Alexander to Joffre and Von Hindenberg, have been dreamers. All the scientists of history have been dreamers. All the builders of history have been dreamers. All the master painters and musicians and sculptors have been dreamers. Likewise the poets, who have given the world its priceless masterpieces, and the authors, who have given the world the classics of literature, have been dreamers. All the liberators of history began as dreamers in their boyhood, and all navigators and explorers who have won places in the hall of fame were dreamers.

SYSTEMATIZE

Your household expenses by opening a bank account for your wife. Give her a check book and teach her the use of it. Pay the butcher, the grocer, the baker, with a check. Then at the end of the month you'll find out just how much it costs you to run the home. When payment by check is made there never is any doubt as to whether or not a bill is paid. The check is a receipt.

Besides, a checking account will give your wife a business education. The number of ordinarily bright women who know absolutely nothing of banking is surprising. If you are a husband, father, brother, you cannot tell when death may overtake you, and it is well that your wife, daughter and sister know something of banking.

LOCAL AID FOR ALLIES' BLIND

Mr. W. S. Lloyd, President of the Mt. Sterling National Bank, has undertaken a humanitarian work which is exceptionally worthy of commendation. As local sub-treasurer of the B. F. B. Permanent Blind Relief War Fund, he is raising a substantial sum in this community to train the many blinded British, French and Belgian soldiers in trades not requiring sight so that they can support themselves and their families in spite of their terrible misfortune.

The blinded soldiers of the Allies are unusually deserving. Their lives have been permanently wrecked in the defense of their homes, families and countries. They can be rescued from their apparently hopeless fate by the establishment of a practical and business-like system of training schools, employment agencies, work-shops and exchanges which will create a market for blind-made products.

Their own governments, being over-burdened with many more immediate and vital problems, cannot either at present or for years to come establish such a system of institutions as adequately or completely as is desirable from a humanitarian stand point.

If America will help, almost all the many unfortunate blinded soldiers of the Allies can, within a very few years, be restored to a real useful and at least to a comparative prosperity and happiness.

If America, on the other hand, ignores this noble world-duty, many of our fellow-human beings, though exceptionally deserving of aid, may be condemned to a slow and miserable death of poverty and despair as public charges upon their communities.

The B. F. B. Permanent Blind Relief War Fund, which is already organized in practically every State and in several hundred cities, has been founded by leading American bankers, philanthropists and business men. Among its American organizers are the Hon. Elihu Root, Vincent Astor, August Belmont, the Hon. Lyman J. Gage, U. S. Senator Thomas P. Gore, the Hon. Myron T. Herrick, the Hon. Robert Bacon, Otto H. Kahn, Whitney Warren, Joseph Widener, and George Alexander Kessler.

Its honorary treasurers are Frank A. Vanderlip, President of the National City Bank; Sir Edward Holden, Chairman of the London City and Midland Bank; and M. Georges Pallain, Governor General of the Bank of France. The patronage of the King and Queen of England, the King and Queen of Belgium and the President of France has been obtained for the distribution of the Fund in their respective countries.

Mr. Lloyd, we think, deserves general and generous support in his public-spirited local leadership of this pressing needy charity. Every humane and large-hearted person desiring to assist this good work should address their contributions to Mr. Lloyd at the Mt. Sterling National Bank, and he, in turn, will forward them to Mr. Frank A. Vanderlip at the Fund's American headquarters, 590 Fifth Avenue, New York.
